

GDPR Commitment Statement

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is the latest EU data privacy and protection framework. Already passed by all member states the regulatory requirements set out within the GDPR, and those provisioned within the UK's Data Protection Bill, will come into force on the 25th of May 2018.

OUR COMMITMENT

The Ogilvie Group is committed to compliance for when the GDPR law comes into effect on the 25th of May 2018, this includes building GDPR into current and future contractual commitments. Ogilvie Group GDPR compliance has required the evolution of our current information security management system (ISMS); clarifying, improving and maintaining key data protection and privacy controls. This journey is an active process and will continue up to and after the enforcement date as the ICO and courts provide additional clarification. Ogilvie Group's information assurance business, Net Defence, will be responsible for ongoing development and governance of our compliance journey ensuring there is synergy, where possible, across all of the Ogilvie Group businesses.

Crucial efforts have been made in the following areas:

- ▶ Data Privacy: Further understanding the historical and future data we collect, process, hold and share in the context of GDPR. This includes mapping both the data and access as part of our current ISMS while introducing metadata tags regarding legal basis, privacy and, consent.
- ▶ Governance and Process: In addition to our current governance, risk and compliance (GRC) strategy the GDPR has provided an opportunity to review and improve processes. We are committed to bringing in both Privacy by Design and Data Privacy Impact Assessments into our current GRC process.

Ogilvie Group strives to improve our security, maintaining privacy for the data we hold and ensuring appropriate security across our partners and supply chain. GDPR and wider security compliance are not static operations and we will continue to improve our operational and GRC processes in response to 3rd party audits, changing legislation and the evolving threat landscape.

Our Commitment to Compliance
